BRITAIN NEARING BREAK WITH RUSSIANS

DIPLOMATIC RELATIONS BECOME STRAINED

BRITISH NOTE TO SOVIET TO BE PUBLISHED TOMORROW

GOVERNMENT SUSTAINED BY 357 TO 111 VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

By CLIFFORD L. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 27.—Great Britain today formally notified the Soviet Russian charge d'affaires of her intention to break off diplomatic relations with Moscow.

The British note stating his majesty's government's intention was delivered today at Chesham House, the former Russian embassy, by an official messenger. It will be published tomorrow.

The note was prepared yesterday before the House of Commons' debate which ended shortly before midnight with a vote of confidence, 357 to 111, in the government's policy with respect to Russia.

Before the vote of confidence, the Commons rejected the laborite motion to appoint a committee to investigate Anglo-Russian relations by a vote of 367 to 117.

With delivery of the note, Britain and Russia, two of the greatest countries in the world, ceased friendly relationship. Britain charged Moscow with working in and out of the British Isles for the overthrow of the established government.

It was said authoritatively that the note demanded departure of the Soviet diplomatic mission and the trade delegation and added that the diplomatic mission to Moscow would be withdrawn.

Selection of a neutral government to handle British affairs in Moscow had not been made today.

The conservative press today supported the Baldwin government in its break with Russia.

Referring to Foreign Minister Austen Chamberlain's statement of government policy in Commons yesterday, The Daily Mail, a leader in the anti-red campaign, said Chamberlain "was able to give proof that Soviet agents in every part of the world have been employed to stir up British hatred."

"Britain recovers her honor and freedom by the decision of Commons to expel the Soviet," it added.

"The nation will welcome with relief the Commons vote giving the signal to close a painful chapter in diplomacy," said the conservative Daily Telegraph. The government's action was "a necessary measure of self defense," said The Morning Post which added that a government that permitted the "Soviet conspiracies" to continue when the case had been proved against the Russians would be "guilty of a gross breach of public trust."

The independent Westminster Gazette, which leans toward liberalism, accused the government of "short range vision" and said the break was "one of the most astonishing things in modern statesmanship, made apparently without regard to its effect on Europe and the world."

The liberal Daily Chronicle conceded that "no doubt Soviet propaganda injured us abroad," but protested that cancellation of the Russian trade agreement would lose business for Europe and rupture of diplomatic relations "might prejudice the peace of Europe."

"The government's decision marks not the end of the 'Russian crisis' but a new beginning," said the laborite Daily Herald. "The world will see arising new alignments of nations, new groupings of powers and new dangers to peace. The break will immediately affect trade and employment."

The diplomatic break was decided upon after examination by the government of documents seized in the recent raid on Arcos, Ltd., and the Soviet trade delegation headquarters. Many documents tending to support the government's charge of anti-British Soviet activity were either read in Commons or published in the "White Paper" issued yesterday, which also revealed alleged American activities of Soviet agents.

Premier Baldwin, addressing a meeting under the auspices of the Women's Unionist Movement at Albert Hall today, assured the audience, most of whom were women, that the "rupture of diplomatic relations does not in any way mean or imply war against Russia."

"It means," he said, "what it appears to men, that we do not intend to have any further political deal-

FLOOD WATERS DROWN HERDS OF CATTLE

RESCUE WORKERS ABANDON ATTEMPTS TO SAVE LIVESTOCK

ATCHAFALAYA RIVER CONTINUES RELENTLESS ADVANCE

New Orleans, La., May 27.—(UP)—Efforts to save livestock and property in lower portions of Point Coupee Parish were abandoned by rescue workers today as flood waters of the Atchafalaya river, already covering 200 square miles, continued their relentless advance.

All relief facilities were concentrated on a final canvass of the Parish for farmers and their families, many of whom have refused to leave their homes, persistently clinging to the hope that some miracle would save them from the flood.

Railroads, which can not operate much longer, highways, still above water, and all available boats were put to use for the exodus of stragglers in the flooded farm lands.

The Mississippi river, meanwhile, had dropped another two-tenths of a foot at New Orleans and stood at 9.5 feet, the lowest it has been since early in April. The river was a full foot under the level of May 17, when the Melville crevasse was washed out.

GAS WELL EXPLODES AT SANFORD, TEX.

ROARING NOISE CAN BE HEARD FOR MANY MILES AROUND

FLAME SHEETS FROM PILLAR OF FIRE CARRIED FOR YARDS AROUND

Sanford, Texas, May 27.—(UP)—A million cubic foot gas well today continued to shoot flame high into the air, with a roaring noise which could be heard for miles. Flames from the pillar of fire were lifted and carried in sheets for many yards from the well, causing fear for the safety of the town of Sanford.

The well exploded yesterday, killing four men and injuring eight more. Three men are missing and it is feared they are dead. Throughout the night, residents of Sanford sought to protect buildings from the blazing heat. Buildings were lifted bodily or dragged from near the fire.

The definite cause of the explosion is not known. Workers were withdrawing casings from the well to probe the oil region and it is thought scraping of metal against the sides of the hole caused a spark, setting the blaze.

Several frame buildings had been destroyed this morning. Water was being played on those structures nearest to the well and which could not be dragged to safety, but the water supply here is meager and it is feared half the village may be destroyed.

"Tex Thornton, a well shooter, donned a fire proof suit last night and pushed close to the crater to determine whether any bodies were near the hole. None was there, he said, and it is thought the men fell into the hole.

The dead are Jack Daniel, Edward Evans, E. L. Stillwagen and Elmer Richards.

Martin Solario, 34, employee of the Boston Land Company, died in the fire.

A force of 1,500 men was called out to aid the fire departments from Hanford, Coalinga and Lemoore which fought the blaze with chemicals and by backfiring.

WRIGHT OFFERS TO SETTLE WITH WIFE

PROPOSES GIVING HER ALLOWANCE, $200 MONTHLY

CONTINGENT UPON HER CONSENT TO A DIVORCE

San Francisco, May 27.—(UP)—Frank Lloyd Wright, famous architect, has offered to settle his long standing controversy with his wife by giving her an allowance of $200 a month, Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright told the United Press today.

The offer was contingent upon her consent to a divorce and she flatly refused it, Mrs. Wright said.

"My hurt is deeper than poverty or starvation and money cannot heal it," Mrs. Wright telegraphed her husband, now in Wisconsin with Olga Hinzberg, Montenegrin girl.

The telegram was sent collect, and the charges of $1.40 represented the first money Wright had paid for her in two years, Mrs. Wright said.

The offer came through Cecile Levin, Mrs. Wright's attorney in Chicago. Miss Levin informed Mrs. Wright that Wright's "backers" had proposed the settlement.

The marital differences of the Wrights have flared for the last two years, reaching a climax in Mrs. Wright's spectacular but unsuccessful attempt to storm Taliesin, the Wright home in Wisconsin last year. ### STARTS OUT IN EARLY MORNING, IN NEW PLANE

BORROWS FRENCH ARMY PURSUIT PLANE FROM MAJOR PINSARD

FOR NEARLY 2 HOURS HE PUT PHOTOGRAPHERS AND REPORTERS OFF TRAIL

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 27.—Charles Lindbergh went back to the air today, just seven days after he crawled into his Ryan monoplane at Roosevelt Field, New York, to start his 33½ hour flight to Paris. With few to watch him, he performed breath taking stunts high above Paris.

Arising at 4:30 A. M., to escape the reporters and the crowds, Lindbergh, tired of being lionized and cheered and forced to make speeches, went to Le Bourget Field, without stopping for breakfast and borrowed a plane.

For nearly two hours Lindbergh flew over Paris, the city which has hailed him as a conquering hero for nearly a week. He passed over the Arc de Triomphe, under which he rode between dense crowds yesterday and skimmed above Eiffel Tower at an altitude of a bare 600 feet.

Lindbergh put reporters and photographers off the trail yesterday by assuring them he was so tired out by receptions and formal functions in his honor that he intended to sleep until nearly noon.

But it was a flight, not sleep, that he wanted as a relief from the strenuous duty of conducting himself like a hero and a diplomat, and at 4:30 a light appeared in his bedroom window at the United States embassy. Within half an hour he left for Le Bourget Field, where he borrowed a French army pursuit plane from Major Pinsard and set out to see Paris from above for the first time by daylight.

With his usual custom of making everybody happy, he assured the French aviators the French army planes were unequalled.

Then the 25-year-old aviator whose chief worries this week have been what to do with offers of movie contracts he didn't want, and how to greet the president of a republic when he kisses you on both cheeks, went to the hangar which housed his own plane—the other half of the "we" with which he always speaks of his flight to Paris.

He looked over his motor, which was reported to have suffered somewhat at the hands of the mauling crowd Saturday, and examined the new covering of linen being put on the plane to replace the one torn by souvenir hunters. Lindbergh said he was sure he would be able to leave for Brussels tomorrow afternoon.

He hummed and grinned as he worked on the plane. Then he regrettably noted the time and left the field to return to the embassy, where he arrived at 9 A. M. He was still greasy and happy, and he laughed scornfully at the newspapermen gathered there.

"You'll have to get up early in the morning to beat me," he said.

Flying officers at the field had been told in advance that Lindbergh was coming, and they had the motor of Pinsard's plane warmed up when he arrived. The jubilant youth did not even wait to put on flying clothes. He donned a leather helmet, played for a moment with the unfamiliar controls of the French plane, and then took off perfectly. Sergeant De Troyat followed him in a similar plane of the Nieuport combat type.

The Atlantic ace cut capers above the scenes of his social and diplomatic triumphs, but none of the early risers who watched him knew the pilot was the man whom 100,000 persons had crowded along the streets to see yesterday.

Not satisfied with merely achieving his goal of seeing Paris without letting Paris see and worship him, Lindbergh went through the book of stunt flying when he got back over Le Bourget, doing everything from loop the loops to tail spins.

The French aviators were loud in their praise of Lindbergh's flying, pointing out that stunt flying was especially daring since he had never before flown a Nieuport plane.

The plane he used was especially

New York, May 27.—(UP)—A privately-financed rescue expedition was being made ready today to search for Captains Nungesser and Coli, missing French aviators believed possibly marooned on some bleak northern coast.

Maj. F. Sidney Cotton, formerly of the Royal Air Force and of the Newfoundland mail service, expected to leave next Monday or Tuesday in a large seaplane. Maj. Cotton said another plane would follow if the necessary $25,000 is over-subscribed.

Frank Tichenor, publisher of the Aero Digest and trustee for the subscription fund, announced that $6,000 was raised yesterday to finance the search and that $16,000 had been made available previously.

ONE LIFE LOST AS THE FLAMES ROARED IN NIGHT

SWEEPED AREA 37 MILES LONG AND 10 MILES WIDE

DOZEN HOMES, FARM EQUIPMENT AND MACHINERY, LOST

Hanford, Cal., May 27.—(UP)—Fire driven by high winds through a rich wheat belt in this section, destroying $2,000,000 worth of standing grain and taking at least one life was reported partially under control early today.

Of an unknown origin, the blaze swept an area 37 miles long and 10 miles wide late last night, destroying a dozen homes and whatever farm equipment and machinery lay in its path.

Martin Solarlo, 34, employee of the Boston Land Company, died in the fire.

A force of 1,500 men was called out to aid the fire departments from Hanford, Coalinga and Lemoore which fought the blaze with chemicals and by backfiring.

The section burned is adjacent to large fruit orchards which were saved.

The Boston Land Company with large holdings in this region, was believed to have sustained the heaviest individual loss.

STAR WITNESS FOR STATE IN HOUSE OF DAVID

ESTHER JOHNSON HANSEL RECALLED TO STAND TODAY

HER TESTIMONY EXPECTED TO LAST REMAINDER OF WEEK

By EDWIN L. HECKLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Joseph, Mich., May 27.—Esther Johnson Hansel, claimed to have been the mediator for most of the quarrels and differences in the House of David religious cult, will be recalled to the stand today.

Mrs. Hansel, a striking woman, started testifying late yesterday in the state's suit to dissolve the colony. She is said to be the star witness for the state and it is expected her testimony will last for the remainder of the week.

"I was brought up in the House of David as a child of 12. I grew up with the colony, excluding from my life the things of the outside world for 18 years," she said in prefacing her testimony of activities within the religious colony.

DEFENSE LAWYER WITHDRAWS FROM COOPER CASE

Wabasha, Minn., May 27.—(UP)—W. J. Quinn, St. Paul attorney, today announced his withdrawal from the defense counsel in the trial of Mrs. Lillian Cooper, 19, charged with the murder of her baby.

Quinn stated he was "not in harmony with the defense planned." He was retained by the defendant's mother, Mrs. Catherine Specht, of Dubuque, Ia., to aid John R. Foley, former county attorney of Wabasha county.

Seven jurors had been chosen at the close of the morning session today. They are Clarence Grier, H. T. Atkinson, McKinley Cliff and Ralph Adams, Zumbro Falls; Russell Cowles and Gus Eabel, Elgin, and Grant Flannigan, Mazeppa.

The venire of 50 has been used up and calling of a special venire is expected this afternoon or Saturday.

Mrs. Cooper was calm today in contrast to her nervousness when she appeared at the opening of court Thursday.

HOARDED LIFE SAVINGS OF WIDOW STOLEN

St. Louis, Mo., May 27.—(UP)—Between $9,000 and $10,000, the hoarded life savings of Mrs. Mary Thomas, 71-year-old widow, were stolen late yesterday from the cottage where she lives with her daughter and son-in-law, she reported to police.

The money, most of it in $10 and $20 bills, was packed in tobacco cans and concealed between ceiling rafters in the home. It had accumulated from rent on property left to Mrs. Thomas 30 years ago when her husband died.

The home was ransacked yesterday afternoon while Mrs. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bopp, her son-in-law and daughter, were away from home. The old woman told police she had been afraid to entrust her money to a bank.

WRIGHT OFFERS TO SETTLE WITH WIFE

PROPOSES GIVING HER ALLOWANCE, $200 MONTHLY

CONTINGENT UPON HER CONSENT TO A DIVORCE

San Francisco, May 27.—(UP)—Frank Lloyd Wright, famous architect, has offered to settle his long standing controversy with his wife by giving her an allowance of $200 a month, Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright told the United Press today.

The offer was contingent upon her consent to a divorce and she flatly refused it, Mrs. Wright said.

"My hurt is deeper than poverty or starvation and money cannot heal it," Mrs. Wright telegraphed her husband, now in Wisconsin with Olga Hinzberg, Montenegrin girl.

The telegram was sent collect, and the charges of $1.40 represented the first money Wright had paid for her in two years, Mrs. Wright said.

The offer came through Cecile Levin, Mrs. Wright's attorney in Chicago. Miss Levin informed Mrs. Wright that Wright's "backers" had proposed the settlement.

The marital differences of the Wrights have flared for the last two years, reaching a climax in Mrs. Wright's spectacular but unsuccessful attempt to storm Taliesin, the Wright home in Wisconsin last year.

Recently Wright was served with an order to show cause why he should not contribute to his wife's support.

STARTS OUT IN EARLY MORNING, IN NEW PLANE

BORROWS FRENCH ARMY PURSUIT PLANE FROM MAJOR PINSARD

FOR NEARLY 2 HOURS HE PUT PHOTOGRAPHERS AND REPORTERS OFF TRAIL

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 27.—Charles Lindbergh went back to the air today, just seven days after he crawled into his Ryan monoplane at Roosevelt Field, New York, to start his 33½ hour flight to Paris. With few to watch him, he performed breath-taking stunts high above Paris.

Arising at 4:30 A. M., to escape the reporters and the crowds, Lindbergh, tired of being lionized and cheered and forced to make speeches, went to Le Bourget Field, without stopping for breakfast and borrowed a plane.

For nearly two hours Lindbergh flew over Paris, the city which has hailed him as a conquering hero for nearly a week. He passed over the Arc de Triomphe, under which he rode through dense crowds yesterday and skimmed above Eiffel Tower at an altitude of a bare 600 feet.

Lindbergh put reporters and photographers off the trail yesterday by assuring them he was so tired out by receptions and formal functions in his honor that he intended to sleep until nearly noon.

But it was a flight, not sleep, that he wanted as a relief from the strenuous duty of conducting himself like a hero and a diplomat, and at 4:30 a light appeared in his bedroom window at the United States embassy. Within half an hour he left for Le Bourget Field, where he borrowed a French army pursuit plane from Major Pinsard and set out to see Paris from above for the first time by daylight.

With his usual custom of making everybody happy, he assured the French aviators the French army planes were unequalled.

Then the 25-year-old aviator whose chief worries this week have been what to do with offers of movie contracts he didn't want, and how to greet the president of a republic when he kisses you on both cheeks, went to the hangar which housed his own plane—the other half of the "we" with which he always speaks of his flight to Paris.

He looked over his motor, which was reported to have suffered somewhat at the hands of the mauling crowd Saturday, and examined the new covering of linen being put on the plane to replace the one torn by souvenir hunters. Lindbergh said he was sure he would be able to leave for Brussels tomorrow afternoon.

He hummed and grinned as he worked on the plane. Then he regrettably noted the time and left the field to return to the embassy, where he arrived at 9 A. M. He was still greasy and happy, and he laughed scornfully at the newspapermen gathered there.

"You'll have to get up early in the morning to beat me," he said.

Flying officers at the field had been told in advance that Lindbergh was coming, and they had the motor of Pinsard's plane warmed up when he arrived. The jubilant youth did not even wait to put on flying clothes. He donned a leather helmet, played for a moment with the unfamiliar controls of the French plane, and then took off perfectly. Sergeant De Troyat followed him in a similar plane of the Nieuport combat type.

The Atlantic ace cut capers above the scenes of his social and diplomatic triumphs, but none of the early risers who watched him knew the pilot was the man whom 100,000 persons had crowded along the streets to see yesterday.

Not satisfied with merely achieving his goal of seeing Paris without letting Paris see and worship him, Lindbergh went through the book of stunt flying when he got back over Le Bourget, doing everything from loop the loops to tail spins.

The French airmen were loud in their praise of Lindbergh's flying, pointing out that stunt flying was especially daring since he had never before flown a Nieuport plane.

The plane he used was especially

COURT BACKING FOR A VETO

So important did the Brainerd Dispatch deem the recent decision of Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji, on the veto of the district judges salary bill, that it was given front page position with a seven column heading. We think his decision in the matter, sustaining Governor Christianson's procedure in the case, is a common sense and commendable one.

As remarked editorially by the Minneapolis Tribune, in an editorial headed "Court Backing for a Veto", it is stated:

"The decision of Judge Stanton of the district court in Bemidji sustaining the validity of Governor Christianson's veto of the bill increasing the pay of district judges from $4,800 to $6,000 a year is a matter of serious moment to the jurists who were to be beneficiaries of the proposed law, but those less directly interested are likely to smile in response to a sense of humor titillated by the decision. Unless we miss our guess from a distance there was a twinkle in the eyes of Judge Stanton as he suggested some of the reasons for his judicial view of the question at issue.

"The finding of the court was in essence that Governor Christianson had attached his veto within the constitutional time limit, and that he was unable to return the veto promptly to the senate for the simple reason that the senate was not in session and there was nobody on the job to whom to deliver the veto officially or otherwise. The Governor's prerogative of veto should not be destroyed in a given case, in the judgment of the court, because he was prevented by circumstances he could not determine or control from living up to the letter of the law while respecting the spirit and purpose of the law.

"Judge Stanton, whose term expires in 1929, was in the position of a jurist called on to decide a question of law involving a legislative bill which made him a potential beneficiary to the extent of $1,200 a year, along with other district judges. His decision was adverse to a substantial self-interest, but he did not permit this self-interest to blur or distort his judicial mind. As a court official his sole interest was in the merits of the controversy itself.

"While Judge Stanton did not put it bluntly and lightly as one might do in street vernacular, he suggested that it would not have comported with the dignity of the office for Governor Christianson to chase the lieutenant governor, the secretary of the senate, or a committee clerk over town trying to hand him a veto. Neither, he thought, should the chief executive deem it in order to put the veto in custody of a janitor, or to climb through a senate window with 'the pa-a-apers'."

The World's
Lowest Priced Cars with Supremely
Beautiful FISHER BODIES!

Chevrolet is the only car in its priceclass offering bodies by Fisher—built as only Fisher can build, and styled as low-priced cars were never styled before!

Bodies by Fisher are everywhere acknowledged to represent the highest order of beauty, luxury, and safety—and never was the superiority of Fisher craftsmanship more evident than in the Most Beautiful Chevrolet.

Despite the lowness of Chevrolet prices, there is not the slightest compromise in design, construction or finish. All embody exactly the principles employed on the highest priced cars—a composite construction of selected hardwood and steel. All are finished in beautiful colors of lustrous, lasting Duco.

Enhancing the beauty of the bodies themselves are numerous features of distinction previously considered exclusive to the costliest cars—features typified by heavy full-crown, one-piece fenders and bullet-type headlamps.

Only the economies of Chevrolet's great volume production make possible such quality at Chevrolet prices—value so outstanding that comparisons cease to exist. Ask for a demonstration!

COURT BACKING FOR A VETO

So important did the Brainerd Dispatch deem the recent decision of Judge C. W. Stanton of Bemidji, on the veto of the district judges salary bill, that it was given front page position with a seven column heading. We think his decision in the matter, sustaining Governor Christianson's procedure in the case, is a common sense and commendable one.

As remarked editorially by the Minneapolis Tribune, in an editorial headed "Court Backing for a Veto", it is stated:

"The decision of Judge Stanton of the district court in Bemidji sustaining the validity of Governor Christianson's veto of the bill increasing the pay of district judges from $4,800 to $6,000 a year is a matter of serious moment to the jurists who were to be beneficiaries of the proposed law, but those less directly interested are likely to smile in response to a sense of humor titillated by the decision. Unless we miss our guess from a distance there was a twinkle in the eyes of Judge Stanton as he suggested some of the reasons for his judicial view of the question at issue.

"The finding of the court was in essence that Governor Christianson had attached his veto within the constitutional time limit, and that he was unable to return the veto promptly to the senate for the simple reason that the senate was not in session and there was nobody on the job to whom to deliver the veto officially or otherwise. The Governor's prerogative of veto should not be destroyed in a given case, in the judgment of the court, because he was prevented by circumstances he could not determine or control from living up to the letter of the law while respecting the spirit and purpose of the law.

"Judge Stanton, whose term expires in 1929, was in the position of a jurist called on to decide a question of law involving a legislative bill which made him a potential beneficiary to the extent of $1,200 a year, along with other district judges. His decision was adverse to a substantial self-interest, but he did not permit this self-interest to blur or distort his judicial mind. As a court official his sole interest was in the merits of the controversy itself.

"While Judge Stanton did not put it bluntly and lightly as one might do in street vernacular, he suggested that it would not have comported with the dignity of the office for Governor Christianson to chase the lieutenant governor, the secretary of the senate, or a committee clerk over town trying to hand him a veto. Neither, he thought, should the chief executive deem it in order to put the veto in custody of a janitor, or to climb through a senate window with 'the pa-a-pers'."

HIS WHACK OF BAT SENT
BROWNS TO 2 TO 1
VICTORY

DEFEATED HUSKY CLEVELAND
CROWD IN 10TH
INNING

By UNITED PRESS
Yesterday's hero—Frank O'Rourke of St. Louis, author of the day's lone homer, broke up a pitching duel between W. Miller and Stewart. The whack sent the Browns to a 2 to 1 victory over Cleveland in the tenth inning.

The Indians retaliated in the second game by winning 9 to 7 as the result of a ninth inning rally.

Allowing only three hits, Vic Aldridge enabled Pittsburgh to stretch its winning streak to eight straight, a record for this season. The victims were the Cardinals and the score was 2 to 1.

Schalk's rejuvenated White Sox climbed half a game closer to the league-leading Yanks, who were idle, by defeating Detroit 4 to 3 in twelve innings. Red Faber was not scored on after the third inning.

Lefty Grove, one of Connie Mack's best bets in the box, held Boston and the Athletics won the first session of a double bill 3 to 1. Walberg and Gray were not so effective in the second contest, which was taken by the Red Sox 4 to 3.

The Chicago Cubs picked on the Cincinnati Reds, sending Eppa Rixey to the showers with ten runs in two innings, winning 11-2.

Washington and New York in the American league and New York and Brooklyn in the National had no games scheduled. Boston and Philadelphia in the National had to postpone a double-header on account of rain.

Louisville, Ky.—Milstead, pitcher for Toledo, broke up a twelve inning contest and won his own game, by cracking out a two-bagger and scoring Marriott, to give Toledo a 3 to 2 win over Louisville. The Colonels had tied the game in the ninth.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Minneapolis took another game from Milwaukee, winning on Duncan's single in the ninth inning. Loftus scored on the single and the Millers won 7 to 6.

Columbus, O.—Biemiller went in for Columbus too late to stop the Indians who had touched Dyer for nine hits and eight runs. Biemiller didn't permit a hit in the three innings he was in the box, but Columbus lost 8 to 5. Anderson and Leibold hit home runs.

St. Paul, Minn.—St. Paul out-hit Kansas City more than two to one but Kansas City won behind good fielding 10 to 8. The Saints hammered Warmouth and Zinn for 13 hits while Kansas City made only eight. Hauser hit a home run.

TIME not WORDS proves a tire's value

EVERY NEW TIRE LOOKS GOOD.

Dunlops not only look good, but they make good—over rocks and gravel, and ruts and sand.

Thirty-nine years of experience has shown Dunlop how to design a tread that gives maximum traction and slow, smooth wear.

This Dunlop tread is the toughest development of rubber known. And this same tough tread-rubber is carried clear around the sidewall to give maximum protection against rut wear.

You get the full benefit of all this extra tread-mileage because each Dunlop is built with the famous trouble-free cable-twist Dunlop carcass, to provide the high-strength and elasticity so vital to long tire life.

TIME not WORDS proves a tire's value

EVERY NEW TIRE LOOKS GOOD.

Dunlops not only look good, but they make good—over rocks and gravel, and ruts and sand.

Thirty-nine years of experience has shown Dunlop how to design a tread that gives maximum traction and slow, smooth wear.

This Dunlop tread is the toughest development of rubber known. And this same tough tread-rubber is carried clear around the sidewall to give maximum protection against rut wear.

You get the full benefit of all this extra tread-mileage because each Dunlop is built with the famous trouble-free cable-twist Dunlop carcass, to provide the high-strength and elasticity so vital to long tire life.

GEORGE ROTH HELD UP IN CEMETERY

Surly Bandit Acosts Young Man on Way to Work at Paper Mill Last Night

RECEIVED NOTHING

Followed Victim Through Cemetery, Then Punched Him in Back and Showed Gun

George Roth, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roth, 721 North Broadway, was accosted by a surly bandit last night about 10 o'clock who stuck a gun in his face and went through his pockets.

The holdup took place in the Evergreen cemetery through which Mr. Roth was passing on his way to work at the The Northwest Paper Co. mill. As Mr. Roth was in his working clothes, there being no money on his person, the bandit received nothing.

The bandit whom Mr. Roth described as wearing overalls, a cap and a mask partly covering his face followed Mr. Roth through the shadows of the cemetery. Near the north-west gate he suddenly punched Mr. Roth in the back, shone a flashlight in his face, presented a gun and told him to put up his hands. He then went through his victim's pockets and on finding nothing swore at him and told him to beat it.

The police today were securing clues which may result in the capture of the bandit.

The meeting was opened by Miss Reid who read "The Minnesota Home-makers Creed." A lesson in silk and wool finishes, trimmings and accessories, followed.

A lunch furnished by the ladies aid was served at noon.

All group leaders were very much interested in the work given by Miss Reid and each went home feeling that the day had been well spent.

Brainerd Will Compete For State Honors at Crookston in October

The Choral society of the Brainerd Musical club was the proud recipient of special recognition as a result of winning the choral contest at the meeting of the Sixth district of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs.

The meeting was held in Melrose a few weeks ago at which time the Melrose Study club members were hostesses. Towns represented in the contest at that time were Melrose, Paynesville, Long Prairie, Bertha and Brainerd.

No prize or award was promised to the winning choral group but last week the Brainerd ladies were most happily surprised upon receiving from the Melrose Study club a check for $25.

The group winning first place at the district meeting has the privilege of representing its district in a like contest at the state meeting to be held this year in October at Crookston. Brainerd members have laid aside the gift as the nucleus of the fund which will be required to send the group to Crookston. Various plans will be carried out to enlarge this sum that Brainerd and this district may not stand unrepresented.

The occasion of the announcement of the gift was a tea given last Saturday for the members of the Choral society by Mrs. D. E. Whitney, retiring president of the Brainerd Musical club. A most delightful afternoon was spent, the culmination of which was the reading of the letter from Melrose.

COURTESY TO BE SHOWN TOURISTS

Red Card Excusing First Time Offenders Will be Given to Visiting Motorists

Warns Tourist He is in Wrong and Asks Him in Future to Cooperate

Courtesy consideration of tourists while in the city of Brainerd will be part of the work of the city police department this summer.

This year instead of the regular white tag used by the police notifying motorists of their failure to abide by the traffic regulations of the city, red courtesy cards will be used this summer on tourist cars.

The red card will be used as a reminder for the tourist in the future to be more observant of the city traffic laws. It will not be a summons to appear in police court on a charge.

The card reads as follows: You are violating the City Ordinance and State Law.

You are excused this time because we believe that you did not do so intentionally.

In the future cooperate with us and observe the traffic laws. It is for mutual benefit and protection.

The remainder of the cards lists the following regulations with blanks at the side of each to notify the tourist which regulation he has failed to observe: 60 minute parking, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.; no parking here, parked incorrectly, no tag license on car, motor running unattended, lights out of order, car faces wrong way, obstructing traffic, too near hydrant, cutting corners, turning in center of block, observe speed law, parking too near intersection.

GEORGE ROTH HELD UP IN CEMETERY

Surly Bandit Accosts Young Man on Way to Work at Paper
Mill Last Night

RECEIVED NOTHING

Followed Victim Through Cemetery,
Then Punched Him in Back and Showed Gun

George Roth, 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Roth, 721 North Broadway, was accosted by a surly bandit last night about 10 o'clock who stuck a gun in his face and went through his pockets.

The holdup took place in the Evergreen cemetery through which Mr. Roth was passing on his way to work at the The Northwest Paper Co. mill. As Mr. Roth was in his working clothes, there being no money on his person, the bandit received nothing.

The bandit whom Mr. Roth described as wearing overalls, a cap and a mask partly covering his face followed Mr. Roth through the shadows of the cemetery. Near the north-west gate he suddenly punched Mr. Roth in the back, shone a flashlight in his face, presented a gun and told him to put up his hands. He then went through his victim's pockets and on finding nothing swore at him and told him to beat it.

The police today were securing clues which may result in the capture of the bandit.

The meeting was opened by Miss Reid who read "The Minnesota Home-makers Creed." A lesson in silk and wool finishes, trimmings and accessories, followed.

A lunch furnished by the ladies aid was served at noon.

All group leaders were very much interested in the work given by Miss Reid and each went home feeling that the day had been well spent.
